A New Digital Era: ICI Unveils Modernized Web Platform

Washington, DC; October 9, 2025—The Investment Company Institute (ICI) launched newly a redesigned website to provide our members, policymakers, and the global asset management industry a user-friendly, modern experience.

“Investors are at the heart of our industry’s work, and our members need cutting-edge tools to help them secure their financial futures,” shared Erica Richardson, ICI Chief of Staff and Chief Strategic Communications Officer. “Our new website provides our members with easier access to ICI’s legal analysis, leading research, operations guidance, and thought leadership, while making clear the policies and regulations we need to help investors achieve their long-term financial goals.”

The new ICI website has an improved user journey, a more visual and engaging experience, and a modern, streamlined design with easy-to-use features. The website showcases new features such as a personalized dashboard for members and features specific pages with ICI policy priorities including expanding access to private markets, the GROWTH Act, e-delivery, and more. It hosts an entire ecosystem that provides topic specific materials on ICI’s perspectives as well as new pages with staff and leadership. While the website is live, ICI will continue to make improvements and implement new, modern features that further streamline the website.

Key features of the new website:

- Personalized ICI member and subscriber dashboards for easy access to resources and research.
- Policy priority pages outlining the issues ICI advocates for, with key resources to educate members and policymakers on the organization’s goals.
- Enhanced search and resource hubs to easily access the extensive library of ICI and IDC content.
